Special joint committee will discuss feasibility study, Train

A special joint committee of the counties of Haliburton and Victoria, met in Lindsay recently to discuss municipal involvement in a proposed Victoria-Haliburton tourist line.

"The original concept of the project is to promote the counties of Victoria and Haliburton with a major tourist attraction, said Emily Township Reeve, Don McCumber, echoing the draft proposal. It is hoped that the careful and business-like development of this project will provide a much needed economic stimulus throughout the entire area."

Consequently, the 12-member committee, comprised of five representatives from both county councils as well as the mayor and reeve of Lindsay, voted unanimously in favor of conducting a feasibility study on the project.

The study, is estimated to cost approximately $30,000 and will receive two-thirds funding from the provincial government with the balance being split on an equalized assessment basis, between the three benefitting parties.

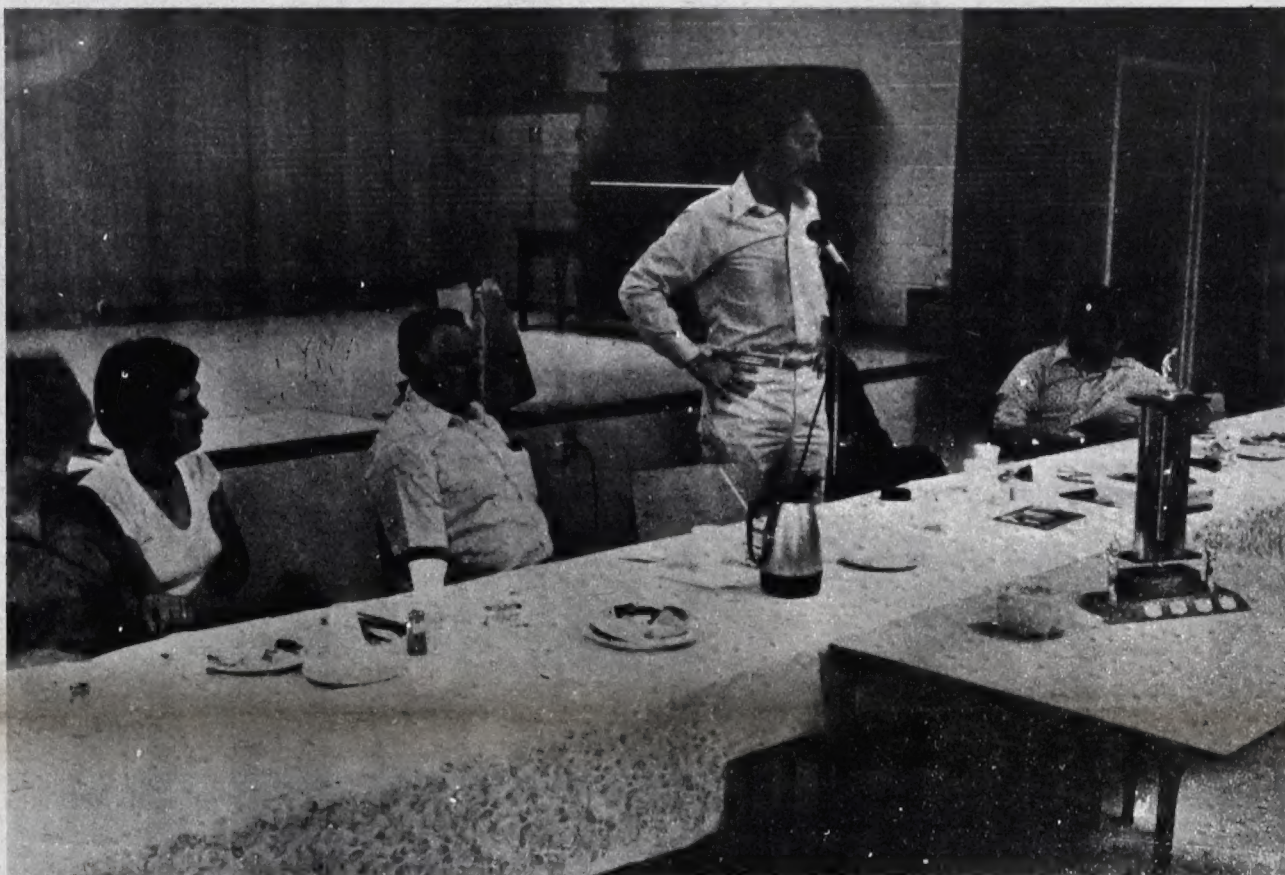

Any kind of municipal involvement must be looked at very carefully, said Victoria County Planner Dave Johnston. "It is an ambitious project and could be a financial drain."

Dysart Reeve Murry Fearrey said, the feasibility study will solve some of the difficulties. We will know the costs and make an intelligent decision later "If this is a feasible project, and if I speak for Haliburton, and I think I do, we want to do everything we can."

Our hope, added Reeve Fearrey, is that it's a good project and private enterprise will pick it up.

Somerville Deputy Reeve Leon Wright said, "there is more potential than just tourism." He was

Tom Watt, MMH banquet guest

Last Wednesday evening at the Minden Community Centre, the minor hockey association held their year-end banquet and awards night. On hand for the occasion was special guest speaker, Mr. Tom Watt (standing) Canada's Olympic Team coach. Mr. Watt spoke to the youngsters on 'goals' in life and also discussed the Canadian

Ambitious Tourism proposal for CNR line

The steel rail link stretching through the wilderness over 100 years ago joining the town of Lindsay with Haliburton, was the subject recently of an ambitious and unique tourism scheme.

Scheduled to be abandoned by the CNR, the Victoria Railway could be transformed into a $1½ a million money maker within four years of its creation, says one of the plans architect's Ed Skelcher.

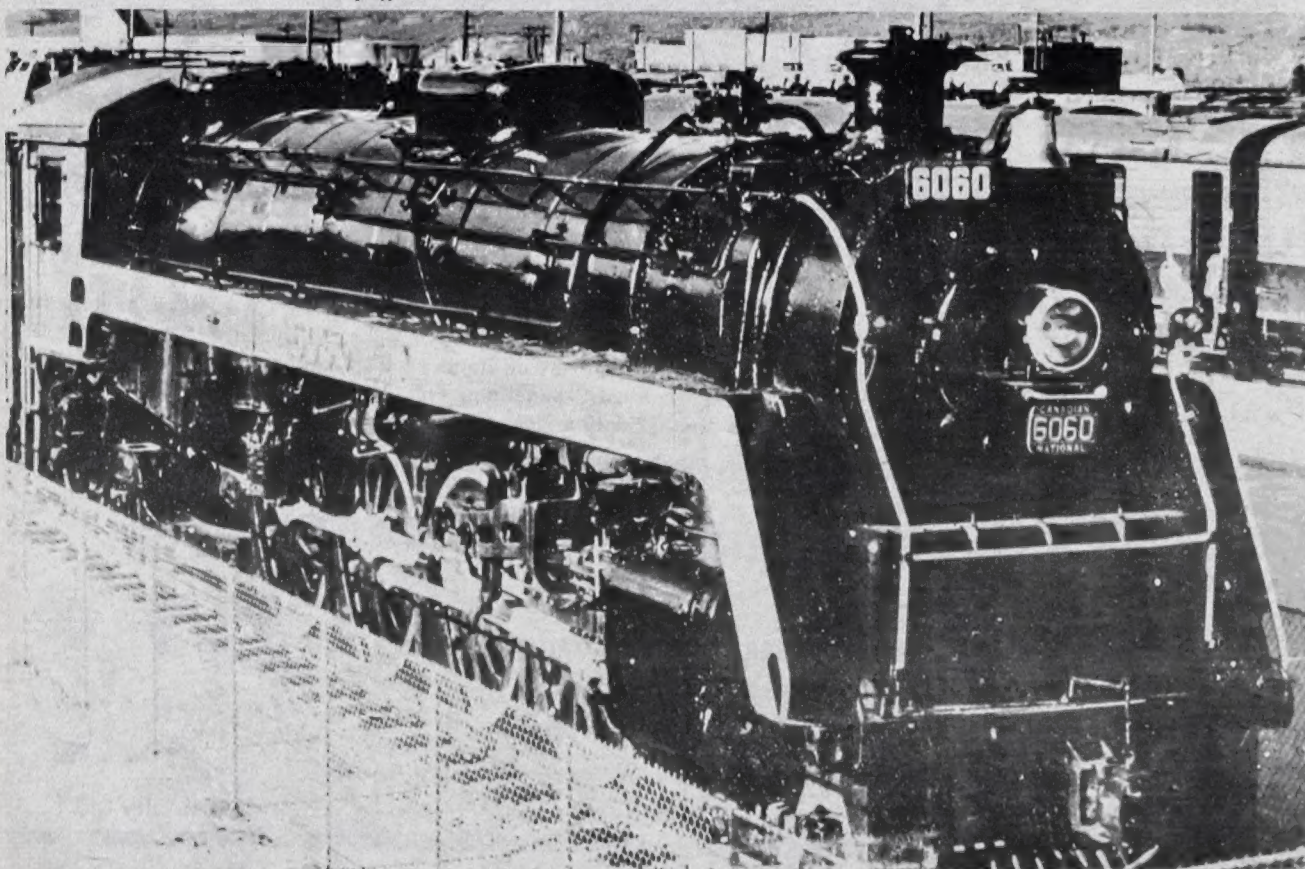

The tourism development proposal centering around the Victoria and Haliburton Railway line, contains five or more possible phases, from the initial steam train ride, to dining and picnic service.

But, at this stage the plan is only a proposal, and many avenues have to be explored before it becomes a reality.

Not only would a passenger travel the scenic journey to Haliburton, but he would travel back in time, to the age when the steam engine was the main link between communities.

"The background clacking of a telegraph key, old-time pictures and advertisements, together with stained and polished furnishings will help to encourage a subtle movement of the passengers thoughts backwards in time from the moment they enter the station," the proposal states.

From the tree-lined avenue of Lindsay to Fenelon Falls station, over the iron bridge, spanning the Burnt River, up to Kinmount and stopping for a view of Richie Falls, before sweeping into the Village of Haliburton, centre of the rugged Highlands: on goes the train, as if time had been rolled back.

Coboconk seeks dissolution of police village status

Coboconk — While Little Britain and Oakwood fight to retain their status as police villagers, Coboconk has apparently decided to relent.

Rising costs and difficulties have led the Coboconk trustees to apply for the dissolution of the police village, but, the sometimes complicated procedure could take over six months. The issue gains added complexity because Coboconk lies in two townships, Bexley and Somerville.

If dissolution is granted after an Ontario Municipal Board hearing, Coboconk would become a part of the municipalities, in whose boundaries it lies.

It takes time, said the police village trustee Howard Souter. "Nothing can be done until we hear from the OMB. It's at a standstill."

Souter was reluctant to state the exact reasons for applying for dissolution at this time, but he said, "It's just one thing after another. There are too many rumours, and everyone is in the middle."

Clerk Ruth Weaver said the trustees don't feel they have enough funds to fulfill their obligations. The government frozen mill rate is being a prime culprit, on what she terms out dated the way costs have risen. Mrs. Weaver says the 15-mills just covers the street lights, leaving very little for anything else.

Drowning victims still not found, Horseshoe or Gull Lake

MINDEN — The following press release from the Minden OPP was released Monday, June 2nd.

The copter then flew over Gull Lake in the afternoon, in regards to the snowmobile fatality during the past winter. Police report no findings.

The winter case of the snowmobile driving into open water on Gull Lake, will receive a Coroner's inquest at the municipal building in Minden on Wednesday, June 18th. Coroner in charge of the drowning will be Dr. Pierce of Haliburton.

Minden Kinsmen hold CF night

Hall's Lake, — The Minden Kinsmen Club held its annual Cystic Fibrosis Night on Monday evening at Lorelea Lodge at Hall's Lake, with over 50 Kinsmen relatives and guests. The evening got underway with a social hour at 7p.m. followed by a delicious buffet dinner served by Ed and Bev Elias, owners of the Lodge.

This was followed by a very informative discussion of the hereditary disease, Cystic Fibrosis from Mr. Walton Prime of Haliburton, a cystic fibrosis parent.

Mr. Prime and his wife Lisbeth have a seven year old daughter, Tina, with cystic fibrosis as well as a healthy son Stephen, nine years old.

Cystic Fibrosis was first discovered in 1939, when the life expectancy of a child was approximately one year. Since that time, with the help of the Kinsmen Clubs, who last year in Zone 8 raised over $200,000.00, research has lengthened that life expectancy to 20-25 years. Cystic Fibrosis is a hereditary disease, where one in every 1800 children born in the world has CF. For a child to have CF, both parents must be carriers of the disease gene. If they are both carriers, they have a 50-50 chance of having a CF child. If these parents have two children, then it is very likely that one will be a cystic child while the other will be a carrier.

Until about six years ago, a child that had cystic fibrosis would need to consume up to 250 capsules a day in order to survive. That figure has been reduced considerably thanks to the efforts of the Kinsmen Clubs, CF Chapters, Shinearama and other donations toward CF research.

Mr. Prime, speaking strictly as a CF parent, told the gathering how having a CF child has effected his families life.

When Tina was born she was healthy, happy and very active until her first birthday, when she contracted the crup and had to be hospitalized. From that time on she was never quite the same. When she was about 16 months old, CF was diagnosed. Tina was hospitalized at Kingston General for about three weeks so that her bodies metabolism could be stabilized with enzymes, vitamins and a mist tent.

This matter will be decided at a later date after committee members report to their individual councils and meeting is set between the province and the members.

But, it was the general feeling of the committee that if the feasibility study showed that the project could indeed become a 'going concern', the matter would not leave the grasp of the CNR. They would run it themselves, possibly eliminating county and private involvement.

"From May to Sept. Tina took her pills mixed with applesauce," said Mr. Prime, then she balked, having had all the applesauce she wanted. My wife and I didn't know what to do then. However, after a visit to Sick Children's hospital, we talked to a CF parent and found out that their child was taking the foul-tasting medicine mixed in Quick chocolate or strawberry drinks. We tried it and from that time on we had little trouble getting Tina to take her medicine. When she came out of the hospital the first time, Tina was taking 16 pills a meal. Last year she was up to 40 and now, with the aid of research, she only needs 15 a meal.

"The toughest part of having a CF child is the pounding they have to take from the Percussor to break up the mucus that forms in a CF patients lungs said Prime. This treatment is done twice a day, totaling 40 minutes, after the child wakes up and just before he or she goes to bed. The process starts out each day with an inhalation mask with a mist that loosens the mucus. Then the percussor is used for five minutes on either side of the child's chest and back, known as postural drainage. The whole object of therapy on CF children is to clear the mucus that forms in the lungs. The air-compressor and muscle relaxant mist loosens the mucus and the percussor breaks it up almost completely.

Last year Cystic Fibrosis charities brought in $1,711,712 towards research, 45 percent from CF Chapters, 34 percent from Kinsmen, 11 percent from Shinerama and 10 percent from other contributions. 75 percent of this money went directly to CF research with the remaining 25 percent going towards administration costs and education classes. Tom Watt, guest at MMH banquet

Minden — Tom Watt, Canada's National Hockey team coach, was the special guest speaker at this year's hockey banquet, attended by some 200 young hockey players from the MMH Association and their parents, last Wednesday evening at the Minden Community Centre.

Mr. Watt, one of the most successful University hockey coaches in Canada, winning something like nine National Championships, also runs a very fine hockey school at Upper Canada College and is the colour commentator on CTV's live coverage of minor, university and olympic hockey games.

Mr. Watt spoke on goals in life to the youngsters. "There are lots more goals in life than just hockey," he said. "They are sometimes not easy to achieve but like hockey when the puck won't go in the net, you keep trying." "It takes hard work, he said, to attain any goals in life, whether it be in hockey or outside hockey. It is these goals you have to strive for, that mean the most."

He told the youngsters to always set goals each year before the season starts, like the forwards setting out to score five more goals this year than last, or the defencemen working to stop those one on one situations better and the goaltenders should strive to give up 10 or 15 fewer goals.

A question and answer period followed, mostly to do with Canada's disappointing performance at the recent Olympic Games held in Lake Placid, New York.

"We have taken a great deal of criticism over our performance at the Olympics since they have concluded, a great deal of it unjustified, Watt said. "We do not have a monopoly on the sport of hockey any longer. Why the other countries are doing so well today is the fact that all these hockey players in the Soviet Union, Sweden, Finland etc., are athletes first and hockey players second. During the off season, these countries have their players playing soccer and other field sports, which keeps these hockey players in shape all year round. Over here in Canada and the United States, once the hockey season concludes, players fish, play golf, hunt, etc., until the training camp opens for the start of another season. Another reason for the improved play of the Europeans and Asians is the fact they do not have the facilities that are available over here, thus they play these other outside activities."

One game plan the western hemisphere should take a long hard look at is the five-man units that are being employed by these foreign teams, rather than the star-system type hockey that is played here. With the larger ice surfaces, it forces the players to play a team game. Here, on the smaller ice surface we can be competitive but on the larger, European ice, North American hockey players are finding it more and more difficult to compete," said the very astute coach of our National Hockey Team.

You think the top stars of PGA golf are just All-American robots?

Well, think again. It gets pretty tense in those big pro tournaments. Pretty tense. It's the kind of drama a casual spectator doesn't notice.

Are some pro golfers too afraid to win? Yes, says Lou Graham: "I know that sounds goofy, but believe me, it is true. That all relates to nerves."

Explains Dave Eichelberger: "If you are hitting the ball well, your nerves will not bother you at all. If you are not, you might be shaking all around the course. You know that at some point, your game could come apart."

Lee Trevino claims that tension is the Hidden Factor in big-money golf.

"If you are nervous, it is because you know your game isn't right," says Trevino, known for his relaxed antics. "Some weeks, the nerves are better than others. Everyone chokes at some time. And all that is nerves."

Graham says, "I remember hearing Gary Player say one time that it is all in your mind. It depends on how you can control your mind, your mental processes. Gary said that if you hear a guy say he has never choked, then he is a guy who never played well enough to get in position to win."

Tom Watson, a top money winner on the PGA tour,

says nerves play big roles in putting and the half-swing shots — not in the free-wheeling drives.

"It is easy to take a full swing," says Watson. "But under pressure, if you have to hit a half-wedge, or something of that sort, it can be very difficult. You can't use muscle memory. When you are nervous, you will leave the putts short or leave the pitch short. It's because you squeeze the grip tighter and do not swing freely."

Hale Irwin appears to be as steel-nerved as anyone in the game. But he knows what it is to be nervous. He can tell you about tournament pressure.

"Nerves," says Irwin. "That is when you let your mind run ahead of the present. It is the proper — or improper — channeling of adrenalin. You must make adrenalin work for you as a positive force if you are to make good shots consistently. It is controlling your emotional makeup."

Doug Tewell admits that PGA stars often manage to hide their fears.

"I had never been exposed to the kind of pressure we face on the tour," says Tewell. "This is supreme pressure. You have to be in control of your nerves. You may feel nervous on the inside, but outside, you have to have complete control of yourself mentally."

Nicholls, Welch hit homers

Hustlers maul Fenelon 11-1, pound out 17 hits

Minden — As home openers go, the Rockcliffe Hotel Hustlers couldn't have planned a better game here in Minden Wednesday evening. The local Tri County Fastball league entry pounded out 17 hits on their way to an easy 11-1 romp over the Fenelon falls Merchants. Of the 17-hit attack, the Hustlers smashed Fenelon pitching for six extra base hits including two homers, two triples and a pair of doubles.

The Hustlers jumped on losing Merchant pitcher Glen Sheehy early, getting six consecutive singles in the first inning to jump out in front 3-0. In the second they increased their lead to 4-0 when Barry Shaw led off with a single and came all the way home on a double by Bernie Nicholls.

The locals upped the count to 8-0 in the fifth inning as Shaw doubled and Nicholls followed with his third homer in as many games. Dave Dollo then doubled sharply down the left field line and he was followed by John Welch who placed a towering home run over the centre field fence.

Fenelon picked up their only run in the sixth inning when Roger McInnis led off the inning with a single, stole second and scored on an error of a sharply hit ball to second by Marty Nicholls.

The Hustlers then put the game on ice in the sixth when Larry Kent tripled, and scored on a single by Bob Johnson. Barry Shaw then hit another triple to deep centre field and was brought home by an infield single by Bernie Nicholls. This was the fourth hit for Nicholls in the game and gave him a three game total of eight for 12 and a team leading .666 average. Included in these eight hits are three homers, one triple, two doubles and two singles. Nicholls also leads the team in RBI's with 9.

Jack Snell (2-0) was the winning pitcher, yielding one unearned run on eight hits, walked one and fanned three. Sheehy took a loss, giving up 11 runs on 17 hits and struck out one.

John Welch leads Hustlers to 2-1 victory over Fenelon Falls

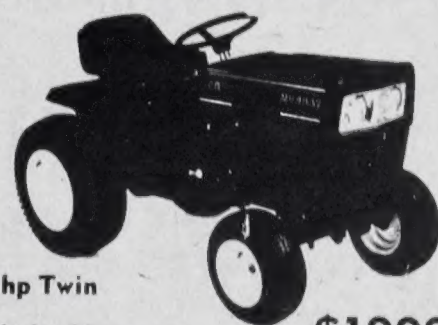

FENELON FALLS — John Welch, playing perhaps the finest ball he's played in his career, came through with another fine performance here on Monday evening, knocking in the winning run with a two-out single in the sixth inning, and then robbing Fenelon of the tying run in the seventh with a spectacular catch in centre field.

Fenelon went ahead in the game 1-0, when Jim Steele doubled and scored on a double by teammate Don Kish in the third. The Hustlers then tied the game 1-1 in the fifth on a single by Larry Kent, followed by a double by Bob Johnston and a RBI single by Dwight Sisson. The Hustlers went ahead to stay in the sixth when Snell led off with a single, followed by another one-bagger by Barry Shaw that sent Jack Schell to third, where he scored on a sharp single to centre by Welch.

The 2-1 win ran the Hustlers season record to 4-0, tops in the league. Snell (3-0) was the winning pitcher while Ken Humprey took the loss.

You've got a right to equal pay for doing substantially the same work as a man.

In fact, you've got a law.

Getting paid the same as a man when you're doing substantially the same work is the law in Ontario. The trouble is, many female employees haven't been paid according to the law, for one reason or another.

Examples.

It's not good enough for employers to set wage rates on the basis of job title, or to use minor differences in work to justify differences in pay.

For example men employed as clerks may have to do some purchasing of plant equipment or supplies perhaps, while a woman clerk may do the purchasing of smaller items—stationery, office needs, etc. But minor differences such as locking up at night, handling petty cash or lifting heavier loads do not make a "substantial difference" in the job and do not necessarily entitle the man to a higher rate of pay. The law states that when a woman is doing substantially the same work as a man, she must be paid the same.

What "substantially the same" means.

To clarify it for you, 'substantially the same' means that the skill, effort, responsibility and working conditions required for the work are similar and any difference in these are of a minor nature.

In considering skill, attention is paid to factors such as experience, training and education required to do the work. In considering effort, attention is paid to the degree of physical or mental exertion required to do the work. And in considering responsibility, attention is paid to the degree of accountability to others in doing the work.

Enforcement of the law.

To enforce the equal pay law, the government of Ontario has added extra staff to the Employment Standards Branch. Their job is to make spotchecks into businesses across the province, to audit pay practices and to investigate complaints made by you to the Ministry of Labour.

Equal pay for equal work. It's your right. And it's the law.

If you want more information or feel you have a valid complaint, call or write your local Employment Standards Branch of the Ontario Ministry of Labour.

To call your local Employment Standards Branch, check your telephone directory or ask Bell Directory Assistance for the toll free number.

Paying a woman less than a man for doing substantially the same work isn't just unfair, it's illegal.

Ask Alma

Dear Alma:
Wanted to share the following piece with you in case you ever run out of laughs to use in your column. A friend sent it to me. — Love, Edna Vogel

Dear Edna:
As long as the world is populated with fallible humans, we will always have humor. It's the greatest sanity saver I know. Thanks for sharing!

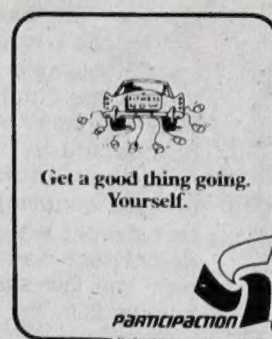

Dear Alma:
What would you do if your friend was smoking and on drugs and you knew it? My friend is and I love her very much. I have tried to talk her out of it, but she becomes unreasonable and won't listen. If I report her, she will hate me for the rest of my life.

I'm sure that many others have the same problem. Can you please help? URGENT in Pullman, Wash.

Dear Urgent:
The most loving thing you can do is to tell her parents immediately. The responsibility for her health and welfare is too heavy for your young shoulders.

She may "hate" you now for getting her in trouble, but she will appreciate your brave act when she begins to get help. You would hate yourself forever if you stood by, didn't tell anyone, and watched her destroy her body. Self hate is much worse to live with.

IF YOU OR A FRIEND HAS a problem, write to ASK ALMA, P.O. Box 43, Closter, N.J. 07624 and watch for the answer in this column.

Gatineau girl wins Master Bowlers membership for 1980

GUELPH — A total entry of 121 young men and young ladies competed in the seventh annual YBC Bursary tournament held at Sportsman's Bowlerama here on Sunday, May 25th.

Sponsored by the Bowling Proprietor's Association of Ontario, the scratch singles tournament is restricted to graduating senior bowlers of the YBC and provided the first ever opportunity for a member to compete for cash prizes. All entrants competed in an eight-game total pinfall qualifying round to determine the six finalists in each division (boys and girls) who advanced to a stepladder match play elimination round to determine the winners of an all expense paid membership in the tournament division of the Master Bowlers Association of Ontario worth $650.

The winners this year were Christine Danis of Gatineau, Quebec and Georgetown's Grant Richardson. Both Christine and Grant finished second in the qualifying round and proceeded to defeat their opponents in the final to be crowned 1980 champions.

In the men's division, to qualifier Doug Griffin, County Bowl Whitby, finished second and collected $100. Paul Saunders from Sherwood Lanes, Hamilton received $65 for his third place, Scott Madole, Plamor Bowl, St. Catharines finished fourth ($40), fifth was Jan Blackbird, Starlite Lanes Wallaceburg ($25) and rounding out the field was Bill Boyle, Avondale Bowl, Bramalea ($20) who ended up in a tie for sixth position with Chris Spencer from Bowl-A-Way Lanes Cambridge and earned the right to advance to the stepladder by defeating Chris in a playoff 198-183.

Christine Danis, Danis Bowl, Gatineau, the reigning Canadian senior girls champion defeated Angela Noon, and top qualifier Terry VanBasselaere, Bowl-O-Drome, Chatham to win top honours. Finishing fourth was Audrey Burns of ABC Bowling, Richmond Hill followed by Julie Vollum, Agincourt Bowl and Darlene Hands, Royal York Recreation, Weston.

One bowler from the 1000 Lakes Bowlers Association took part in this Bursary Tournament. Mike Wilson, one of the finest young bowlers in the association, and winner of numerous tournaments throughout his YBC career, had a tough time of it in Guelph, finishing in 43rd spot out of the 70 young men who bowled. However, this is not indicative of the calibre of bowler Mike is. In the very near future Mike will be donning the 1000 Lakes colors at the Carling Colt 45 Open, as a member of either the men's or mixed teams, he is that good. Hopefully next year the Carnarvon Lanes YBC Program will have a fine representative at the 1981 Bursary Tournament. Cathy Darby, with one solid season of bowling, has a chance to make a name for herself in this tournament. Cathy is the finest senior girl bowler in Carnarvon's Program, and with an average of 200 during this past season, will have an excellent chance in the 81 Bursary.

Take time to select and plant trees properly says M. of A.

Few gardening efforts bring returns as long-lasting as trees. Taking the time to select and plant them properly this spring will ensure years of enjoyment. "Recommendations for planting trees and shrubs have changed as a result of research," says Mr. Bob Fleming, of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and food horticulturist. "Research now indicates that it is better to use the existing soil from the planting hole than to add purchased soil or organic material."

The reports state that using the existing soil around the roots will encourage better root development. If the soil around the roots is higher in quality than the existing soil, the roots will tend to grow only in the richer soil and won't spread into the surrounding soil.

Adding organic material such as peat moss, to the planting hole is not recommended because the peat retains moisture in wet weather, which can drown the roots. In dry periods, the peat moss dries out and hardens, preventing water from reaching the roots.

"For best results dig the planting hole twice as wide and one and one half times as deep as the root ball," says Mr. Fleming. "Use the existing topsoil around the roots and fill in the hole with the existing subsoil. Use leaves or peat moss as a mulch on the soil surface to conserve moisture, and stake the treetop to prevent wind damage. Wait until the second year to apply fertilizer."

Plant deciduous trees, sold bare root, before mid-May to provide the best growing conditions. Container-grown deciduous trees can be transplanted safely until the end of May or early June.

"When selecting trees, many home gardeners choose taller, more mature trees to achieve instant results," says Bob Fleming. "However, the results four or five years later won't justify the higher cost of the larger trees."

Smaller trees stand a smaller risk of damage when you transplant them than the larger trees. And a 1.8m (6-8ft.) tree will be about the same size in four or five years.

Once you have purchased your tree, protect its roots with a plastic bag, and wrap the top of the plant in burlap to prevent it from drying out on the trip home. Transplant the tree to its new location immediately, or heel the roots into moist soil in a protected location until its convenient to transplant.
